

Advance Your Impact in Teacher Education & Leadership Doctoral Programs

Ed.D. Doctor of Education

- 46-credit, Carnegie Project on the Education Doctorate (CPED) - aligned professional doctorate
- Designed for working educators and leaders to address real-world “problems of practice”
- Practice-driven, so you can keep your career on track while earning the degree
- <https://cehs.usu.edu/teal/doctoral/EdD>

Ph.D. Doctor of Philosophy

- 60-Credit, Research-oriented, focused on theory and academic scholarship
- Prepares graduates for faculty roles, curriculum design, and advanced research careers
- Concentrations in cultural studies, school leadership, literacy education, mathematics education, and science education
- <https://cehs.usu.edu/teal/doctoral/doc-ed>

Why Utah State University?

Emma Eccles Jones College of Education & Human Services ranked Nº1 in Utah, Nº2 in the Intermountain West

R1 Doctoral University – Very High Research Activity

Apply by December 1 to start your doctoral journey

Emma Eccles Jones
College of Education & Human Services
UtahStateUniversity

School of Teacher Education and Leadership