SUBJECT: Invitation to A.S.P.E.N. Behavior Training

School administrators and school psychologists are invited to attend the following make-up course on the A.S.P.E.N. Behavior Management Training. This training provides strategies for school personnel to effectively manage and de-escalate aggressive student behavior in the school setting. This training is being offered as a make-up opportunity for the sessions that were offered in October.

Please register in JPLS so we can plan for the appropriate materials. If you can attend at the last minute please feel free to come; however, because we are providing certification for attendance, it is important that you do attend an entire session.

This course for Principals and School Psychologists is a shortened version of the full course to give you an overview of the program and determine what further training may be appropriate for your settings. This course will be offered as a full version to other educator groups in the future or could be customized for your individual school staff needs. We look forward to seeing you there!
