ABOUT THE MEN OF PROMISE CONFERENCE

In 2014, LaMarque Ward, CEO, Dream Builders University had a vision to expose inner city students to a day of mentoring, character development, training and goal setting while building them up to realize their full potential.

The goal was for the students to attend a conference where they would leave inspired, giving them life and professional experiences that can shift their life trajectory. By changing their path thus shifting their habits and disciplines allowing them to achieve goals and connect with role models to help them develop their VISION, DISCIPLINE and CHARACTER.
