

National Science Teacher Association Conference

Principals,

The NSTA Conference will be held in Salt Lake City Utah this year on October 24-26 during the JSD fall break. Due to legislation decisions that reallocated funds from STEM Action Center to USBE, LEAs and teachers will not have the opportunity to apply for funding to attend the conference. I am in the process of reaching out to industry partners for donations to help teachers experience this amazing conference. This will be a once in a lifetime opportunity for many teachers.

The timing is perfect with new science standards and a new approach to teaching science occurring in classrooms across our district and the state.

As I continue to reach out for help, may I suggest you check your budgets to see if you have funds to send a some of your teachers. If and when funding is secured reimbursement arrangements will be made.

Please see the registration cost below. *Earlybird registration ends on September 23 and Advance registration end on October 4. Many of your teachers are USTA and/or NSTA members. If they are not members you may encourage them to join and then your cost is reduced.

Please don't hesitate to email or call me with questions or concerns.
