

Your AI study partner, Sidekick, right Inside Canvas

No more Canvas confusion, all answers, all the time.

Introducing Sidekick:

This is your personal AI assistant that lives right inside Canvas and understands all your courses. It knows what assignments you have, when they're due, and what you're learning in each class. And the best part?

It's available 24/7, so you can get help whenever you need it—whether that's during study hall or at midnight when you're working on homework.

Sentence Starters

- "What assignments do I have due this week?"
- "Can you explain this assignment in simpler terms?"
- "Help me get started on my history essay"
- "What's my schedule look like today?"
- "I'm confused about this reading assignment—can you help?"
- "Show me what I need to focus on first"

What can it help me with?

Stay organized

- See all your assignments, deadlines, and course materials in one place—no more clicking through endless Canvas pages.

Understand your work

- Get help breaking down confusing assignments, understanding instructions, or figuring out where to start.

Learn your way

- Get explanations that match how you learn best, with examples that make sense to you.

Never feel stuck

- Ask questions anytime, from anywhere. Your AI tutor is always ready to help—even at 2 AM when you're stuck on homework.

Ready to start?

Start by asking a simple question about your courses or assignments. Your AI tutor will guide you from there.

Remember: This is your personal study space. Ask anything, explore freely, and use it however helps you learn best.