

Teachers have a variety of options to communicate with students and parents. One option is Skyward Message Center, which allows teachers (and administrators) to send emails to their students or their student's parents. Both students and parents have the ability through Skyward Student and Family Access to update their respective preferred email address. Given our district's use of Skylert with parents, the email address in Skyward for parents would most likely be up to date. We noticed that students have used their personal email address, their school email address or their parent's email address. It may be prudent to have students, at minimum, login to Skyward Student and Family Access to review and update their preferred email address.

The student would login to Skyward Family Access, click the "My Account" link in the upper right corner, and update the "Email" field. The parent would do the same thing but with their Skyward login.
