SUBJECT: Thriving Schools: A Summit for Student Success

These past few years have both challenged us and taught us the importance of prioritizing empathy, relationships, and social-emotional learning to support students. Above all we know that a thriving school community starts with ongoing learning and reflection.

Thriving Schools: A Panorama Summit for Student Success originally aired on February 15th – but they have made it available to access until May 16th for FREE. The topics include:

- What does it mean for schools to thrive?
- MTSS and data-based decision-making.
- School Counselors as leaders within a multi-tiered, multi-domain system of support.
- Creating a shared understanding & partnering with families to supporting the social-emotional growth.
