learning^{plus}

June 11-12, 2018
Salt Lake City, UT

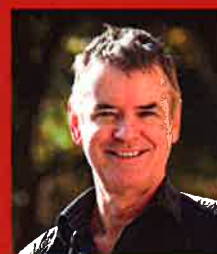

Brought to you by Corwin in partnership with Brigham Young University, this two-day Visible Learning^{plus} Institute with John Hattie and James Nottingham is designed to operationalize Visible Learning principles. Participants will gain the tools and practices to put theory into local practice.

At the institute, you will learn to:

- Implement leadership and instructional practices that impact student learning
- Assess PLCs as an effective improvement practice to accelerate teacher collective efficacy through classroom practice, roles, and student outcomes expectations
- Apply the practices of learning outcomes and success criteria (LISC) to strengthen a guaranteed and viable curriculum
- Implement a design model for creating and delivering effective common formative assessments
